“Silence is a golden opportunity”

Who are we ?

Silent Events provide innovative and premium entertainment concepts with fail safe sound solutions for events, venues and festivals.

We supply silent disco system packages to ensure a unique and quality entertainment experience for your event and to extend entertainment duration and use of venue space in compliance with licensing, city councils and the Environmental Protection Agency.

Unlike other suppliers of this product, we are located in Australia and provide our service nationally. Our background is technology based with a history of live sound and music production accumulating many years experience in the music and entertainment industry.

Besides corporate events and festivals, we have ongoing client relationships extending across different music mediums including Nova, Channel [V], County Music Channel and the CBS Interactive internet radio station Last.FM.

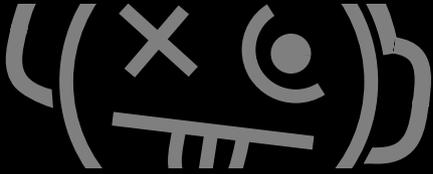

About Our Silent Disco Systems

Our silent disco systems consists of hundreds of wireless three channel headphones, operating within a 100 meter range of a three channel transmitter. We have put extensive research and product development into the radio frequency of the transmitters and headphones, resulting in a solid sound production with no risk of interference with any other surrounding devices including mobile phones and digital TV.

The silent disco system includes one Silent Events technician and the appropriate amount of promotional staff to manage and facilitate the silent disco component of your event.

We offer branding and advertising on the headphones with a turnaround of approximately 20 days resulting in high quality printed, branded caps attached to the headphones. Your company will experience a personalized silent disco reinforcing your brand or it can be used as a marketing opportunity for event sponsors or partners.

How a Silent Disco Works!

A Silent Disco is a rather new phenomenon which is popular with club and festival events all around the world. Because of the unique qualities of this entertainment medium, the creative applications for a Silent Disco is limited only by the imagination. It may be incorporated into event themes to create a fresher entertainment experience or used distinctly on its own.

Silent Events will personally assist you with facilitating and brainstorming a unique entertainment experience for your event. We also insure that our silent disco will be easily integrated into your event.

“Shhh... Silent Disco in progress!”

Imagine walking into your event, club or festival where visually everything looks normal, there is mood lighting, staging and DJ's, then you look closely at the crowd and you see that everyone is wearing headphones.

You can hear the crowd singing out loud and see them dancing to different songs, but you can't hear the music that they are singing and dancing along to. You put on your headphones and you can now hear what's going on.

You quickly choose what type of DJ / music style you prefer by switching to channel 1, 2 or 3 on your headphones. You also have the option to press the on/off button where you quickly revisit the initial room ambience and enjoy the unusual yet entertaining buzz of the crowd.

Enjoy the silence with the following benefits
